ROMANCE AND HARD WORK do not mix. Maxwell Bodenheim, Greenwich Village novelist and literary Don Juan, calms an irate father whose daughter seeks the writer's criticism of her literary style. Last week another young lady who found Bodenheim's criticism too harsh jumped into the North river, and her parents are trying to find out how it all happened. Young ladies who want to write should have more faith in their own ability and should know that the best writing never has been done under romantic guidance. Even the harassed Bodenheim has to go into seclusion to find time to write a book.

A SLEEPY AND SICK MOTORMAN runs his electric train on the Long Island Railroad through an open drawbridge and passengers have to swim their way out. How no lives were lost is a miracle. Admitting that he was sleepy and physically unfit for his job, how was the motorman permitted to play with scores of human lives? Death almost took the throttle away from him while trusting passengers sat in their seats relying on the company's management. What were the motorman's working hours and how did he get into his cab when he was half asleep and sick? Here is a job for a vigorous, unhampered district attorney.

DAME ELLEN TERRY, FULL of years and fame, dies after urging friends to forget funeral gloom. Although death has come to her home, no blinds are drawn and nobody is in black. Church bells "Life Liar Us Cherish". She had lived a full life and was satisfied. Wherever she is now, she will be happier for having accepted the passing as the most natural phase of existence. Sarah Bernhardt called her the greatest actress in the world. That compliment from the great French Jewess should make Dame Ellen happy forever after.

LIEUT. CESARE SABELLI will not fly to Rome from Roosevelt Field until he is "damed good and ready." That is his answer to a group of restless reporters and the public will agree with him. A public opinion stimulated by the novelty and excitement of trans-oceanic flying has been responsible for too many tragedies already. Flights should be determined by aviators who know their business and not by financial backers and newspapers.

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE announces that she is going to write a book on her love affairs and the British are looking forward to it. The last time Peggy Joyce "wrote" a book a reporter interviewed her for every chapter in her Louis XIV. bonder and thoughtfully wrote it all out for her. She was pleased with her work when it appeared in print, and announced at the time that she might turn novelist. That is not the way British writers have built their literary reputation, but we do things more quickly in America. If you are famous in love, or a great home-run hitter or a prize fighter, you can "write" a book that way and make real money.

CROWD TRIES TO RELEASE 250 IN JAIL

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 30.—(U.P.)—State militia were called out here tonight to aid police in dispersing a crowd that had gathered around the police station where 250 picketers arrested late today were being held for arraignment Tuesday.

Seventy-five militia were called to the scene by Chief of Police Samuel McLeod to augment the police force. The crowd, estimated at 2500 persons, mostly relatives or friends of the 250 prisoners crowded in cells meant to hold but 80 persons, shouted and joined in some but engaged in no violence. When the militia arrived with fixed bayonets the crowd immediately broke up with the exception of 15 persons who were arrested for not moving quickly enough upon orders to disperse.

Youth's Prank Is Aid To Motorists

Placing chalk marks on tires of automobiles parked on Macdonald avenue is serious business with Richmond police.

Removing the chalk marks was just a lark for Ernest Peters, 15 year old Richmond lad, and a great convenience for motorists who might have been cited for exceeding the parking limit. Caught in the act of exercising his "Good Samaritan" inclinations, Ernest was brought before Chief of Police Cox and Captain L. E. Jones, where he learned that the business of erasing official chalk marks was simply not being done by civilians.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

Whatever failings the United States may have in regard to its treatment of other nations, it has erred always on the side of good nature. Hesitant policy has earned us a reputation for being easy and everyone knows that some kinds of people regard a big fellow who is good natured as not only amiable but weak.

Whenever force has been demanded America has had it to display, as in Nicaragua, but no country likes less to clinch its fist than the United States. Paradoxical, it is but true, that we have become known as Yankee imperialists in Mexico, for one, but the thinking people there know full well that there is nothing to the accusation.

President Coolidge is pleased to learn from Mr. Wilbur of the navy department that things are coming along in Nicaragua, which is a very good thing, too, no what there is prospect of increased turmoil in the more immediate neighborhood of Mexico. We all hope that the burdens imposed on Mexico by an assassin will not adversely affect either country, for it would be a shame to waste the good that has been done by Captain Carranza and Colonel Lindbergh, and by all the other personalities and circumstances that have been improving international relations.

Son No Longer Adopts Trade Of His Father

ALBANY, N. Y., July 28.—(U.P.)

"Nowadays parents appear teased to have their children follow their own choice as to professional careers," said Dr. E. H. Cornell, state psychologist, in the bureau of mental measurements, elaborating on the assertion she recently made that "following in dad's footsteps isn't what it used to be."

"Education of the parents has brought about the downfall of the old iron clad family tradition whereby the son naturally had to become a lawyer, Dr. Cornell explained. They have learned that children, even those of parents of superior mental alertness may be limited in mentality and that learning cannot have an effect on mental processes. Moreover, children as well as parents know today that there are fields to suit all grades of intelligence.

"Parents are not interfering as much as they used to in the life work of children," said the psychologist. "It used to mean that if a father was a lawyer, the son was expected to be one too, regardless of his own preferences and in spite of his mental capacity and adaptability.

"Of course there were few professions then. Other sizes of work were no so attractive to young men and women. Parents were ambitious for their girls to learn school and for their sons to be lawyers or doctors or bankers.

"Parents who take interest enough to keep abreast of educational research are now able to see that while one son may be equipped to study law, another may be adapted for commercial work or one of the trades."

"It used to be that when the son didn't care for the study which prepared him for dad's work, parents were disappointed and blamed the child, often inflicting severe discipline to make him study."

"Nowadays parents appear to be pleased to have their children follow their own choice, and if it leads to manual work or engineering or business, they are contented."

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE

Dear Laura Lane,
My skin is clear and unblemished but, no matter how much care I take of it, it remains course and disfigured, by large pores. Isn't there something I can do that will help this condition?

Florence M.
There certainly is something you can do about it, and the sooner you do it the better. The enlarged pores, if not cared for in time, will become clogged with blackheads and then your complexion will begin to suffer.

The first step in skin treatment is to keep the skin in good condition and cleansing freely. To do this a well balanced diet including at least eight glasses of water a day, plenty of rest and exercise in the open air are necessary. After you're sure that you're not neglecting any of these essentials, is time for local treatment.

If your skin is not disfigured by blackheads, apparently you are clean but it probably and we need not consider that pores if the case. Do you follow the advice by an expert? If so, you will begin to fight the blackheads and even the ones that have been around when exposed to heat and cold when subjected to cold. These are the most important to have the lotion really cold.

There are many pore-contracting creams which will help to refine the texture of your skin. Instead of massaging them in as you do other creams, slap them on gently. This method stimulates the circulation and helps the skin to function by keeping it active.

Island Reappears In South Pacific

BERKLEY, July 28.—(U.P.)

Scientist representing several institutions of higher learning have succeeded in reaching Falcon Island, mysteriously disappearing body of land in the south Pacific near the Tonga archipelago.

According to word received here by Dr. William A. Setchell, the chairman of the University of California botany department who is co-operating in the expedition, a landing and exploration of the island was made.

Several times in the past Falcon Island has been known to disappear only to be raised again above the level of the sea after an inundation, and the present expedition was the first to visit it since it made its appearance the last occasion.

Falcon Island was found to be two miles long, and 350 feet in height. In 1926 the island was only a reef over which the sea broke with great violence, according to Dr. Setchell, who visited nearby islands there to study plant life.

The island was first sighted in 1855 by a British warship, Dr. Setchell said. After disappearing about 1871, it again was seen in 1885. It disappeared again about 1890, only to be again located recently.

The prince of Tonga formally planted the flag of his kingdom on the island.

VISITING THE WORLD CHILDREN

By Ruth Thompson

Tour Nears Equator

Did you ever wish you could go to South America?

Well, here's your chance, children, for a personally conducted tour!

Our next journey, starting Monday, is through certain countries in South America and Ruth Thompson was planned the most delightful "pretend trip" that you've taken!

Did you ever wish you could be in a tropical forest and hear the chatter and watch them swing by their tails from tree to tree? And wouldn't it be wonderful to hear the bright colored parrots scold and scream? And to see the hanging orchids, and the giant

But the children in South America are interesting, too. Some Spanish, some Indian—some part of both, and a few savages, too. When we are having winter, South American children are enjoying summer. Our summer is the South American's winter!

There's really too much to tell you about it here, so we'll plan to go to South America, and first of all, little Tulita, and her brother, Tamasso, of Venezuela, will bow and say "Buenas Dias, Amigo!" And that means the same as your words, "Good Day, Friend!"

All of you children have, of course, been making scrap books. Be sure and make a pretty book every week.

A Stitch in Time

Whether or not it is true that eighty per cent of all persons over sixty-five are dependent on relatives or charity for support, the fact remains that destitution among the aged is distressingly common. To what extent this sorry condition can be relieved is largely a question for individual solution. A systematic savings plan, begun in time, will make age free from want and privation. An American Trust Company savings account, earning four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually, is an important step toward financial independence in the declining years.

Two Jailed In

Altercation On Driving Machine

PITTSBURG, July 30.—Pittsburgh, Pa., developed over an argument as to who would drive a car last night landed George Ramsey, 45, an Antioch painter and Mrs. Minnie Kelly, 43, in the city jail here on a charge of disturbing the peace. They were taken into custody by Traffic Officer Howard Hornsby, who found their car parked across the highway while they were attempting to settle their dispute.

Ramsey was treated by Dr. L. G. Gregory for a head laceration, which required five stitches to close, and which Ramsey claimed was inflicted by Mrs. Kelly while driving a screwdriver. Mrs. Kelly, according to police, claimed that her husband knocked off her glasses while driving. Ramsey and Mrs. Kelly pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Wade Moore and were sentenced to terms of 90 days each in the county jail.

UNDERWORLD FILM SCORES TRIUMPH HERE

Thomas Meighan, Marie Prevost, Sam DeGrasse, Louis Wolheim, Skeet Gallagher scored another triumph last night at the California Theatre in his role of Captain McQuinn in "The Racket," a picture produced by Caddo Productions and released by Paramount, and will serve to boost the favorite actor's stock by many points with his innumerable movie fans.

"The Racket" is one of the most powerful stories ever filmed with a world that manifests itself in the larger cities. The story, or rather the play, was written by a newspaperman, Bartlett Cormack, who used material gained from his own observations and experience. The picture version of the play of the same name, adheres strictly to the original plot, only elaborating in places where the picturization could be best served, such as the mob scene.

The supporting cast could almost be termed all-star. Marie Prevost, herself a movie star, is the leading feminine role. Louis Wolheim, he of the broken nose, Moran, Skeets Gallagher, John Darrow and many other well-known character actors all add to the brilliant performance.

There have been many underworld movies made recently, some of which were outstanding, but "The Racket" will always stand out as one of the best pictures made of this character. It should be seen by all means. The main plot is centered around the feud of Captain McQuinn and Nick Scarci, portrayed by Mr. Meighan and Mr. Wolheim respectively. Wolheim continually escapes prosecution due to his connections with political forces, despite the energy expended by Thomas Meighan to land him behind the bars. How he finally wins out over the underworld is enacted in the most interesting manner, in which Mr. Meighan's performance, along with the others, will be remembered for some time to come.

Other features in the program include "The Battle of a Century" with Stan Laurel, Topics of the Day and Aesop's Fables. Tomorrow brings Esther Ralston, the beautiful blonde actress in "Love and Learning."

Hoover Ired By Cameramen

HORN BROOK, Calif., July 30.—(U.P.)—Herbert Hoover's quest for solitude ended today when he arrived at the remote home of a friend for three days of fishing in the Klamath river, 23 miles from the nearest town.

The Hoover party of 46 friends of the republican presidential nominee, newspapermen and photographers, arrived at Brown camp early in the afternoon after a two-hour automobile journey from Medford, Oregon.

Hoover went fishing near Medford early this morning. For two hours he tried without success in the Rogue river, trailed by local photographers who followed him on both banks of the stream eager for a picture.

One of the photographers waded into the stream up to his breast. In the hope of getting a closeup of the nominee landing a steelhead trout.

Hoover protested vigorously at the surveillance of photographers. When he was unable to chase them away, he decided to leave immediately. Brown's camp, where his friend, Milton Esberg, San Francisco banker, has a lodge.

EVE SOUTHERN SELECTED FOR ROLE OF SIREN

Eve Southern is a comparative newcomer in the screen firmament, but she has commanded attention and admiration for her versatility. In "The Gauchy" she was the essence of spirituality; in "Wild Geese" she was the sturdy strong-willed Judy; in "Clothes Make the Woman" she was the sorrowful, unhappy lost princess, but in "Stormy Waters," which was shown at the Richmond Theatre yesterday for the first time here, she exhibits powers that none of her previous roles have even hinted at.

Here she is the supreme siren—the most voluptuous, alluring, seductive creature you have ever seen in a screen vampire. From the Great Bara down, there has never been a vampire performance to equal Eve Southern's in "Stormy Waters."

We see her first in an Argentine port cafe, her body swaying in the movements of the tango. She is a practiced charmer—all the tricks are first nature to her, and when David Steele, just ship on his first voyage, bumps into her table and brings down a storm of swearing abuse on his head, he's marked from the start. After she has him securely, she claims she were married while he was too drunk to know it, and he, poor fool, lost completely in her coils, believes it and takes her to his brother, whose great love for the younger has hoped to shield him from such unhappiness. And there is unhappiness aplenty in store for David, for he is soon disillusioned, coming to blows with his brother before he reaches a complete realization of the role. Malcolm McGregor is very convincing Roy Stewart, a solid, older brother, is solid and dependable. A storm at sea provides intense throughout Edgar Lewis, a difficult subject, it is a Tiffany-styled picture, remaining until tonight.

Included on the same program are "Cash and Carry" a clever comedy, Aesop's Fables and Topics of the Day.

testify if he felt that his rights would be jeopardized, told the details of the accident, claiming that he did not see the child and slammed on his brakes as soon as he felt the impact.

His theory is that the boy was attempting to cross the street and when in the middle, dodged a car approaching from the opposite direction, falling back into the path of his car.

Testimony presented showed that the body had been dragged approximately 20 feet and that the rear wheel was resting on the boy's neck.

Wayne Holden and P. F. Agrest, who assisted in removing the body and brought the boy to the Cottage hospital, where he was pronounced dead, corroborated the statements of Raymond. Cleo Reip, brother of the boy, testified that he saw Franklin in the middle of the street and thought he was crossing safely although there was heavy traffic at the time. None of them saw the impact.

Raymond, after the boy had been removed to the hospital, immediately notified the Albany police department. In this he was corroborated by Traffic Officer Frank Davis.

Funeral services will be held from St. Andrew's church, Albany, tomorrow morning, with the cortege leaving the Wilson and Kratzer chapel, where the remains are lying in state at 9:30 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

In addition to his parents, the boy is survived by three brothers, Dale, 18, Cyril, 15, and Cleo 16 and one sister, Marilyn age 10 months.

COUNTY REAPS BIG SUM FROM VEHICLE FUND

MARTINEZ, July 30.—Costa's total share of motor vehicle funds apportioned by the state for county highway purposes for the first six months of the year will amount to $35,733.75.

This is according to an announcement received here today from Frank G. Snook, Chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles. Salaries of the traffic officers for the period amounted to $9,422.50 and the amounts reserved for their salaries for the last half of the year amounts to $9,840.

This leaves a net total of $26,471.25 to be used by the county on its roads.

The apportionment is based on fee paid vehicle registration in the county as follows: Automobiles, 17,821; solid-tired trucks, 444; pneumatic-tired trucks, 1, motorcycle, 171, trailers, 244.

"We are much pleased with the showing made in County Costa county," Chief Snook said.

The total gross share of the funds paid to all the counties was $2,980,937. A similar sum went to the state highway commission for work on state roads.

Her Voice Fills Block Whenever She Sings

HETTIE DELMAN

MOST FAMOUS OPEN AIR SINGER IN THIS COUNTRY. LEARNED HOW TO HANDLE HER VOICE IN THE AIR WHILE SINGING FOR THE A.E.F.

I tore up my picture when you said good-bye. But I put it to gether in a gang.

Hettie Delman, is Chief Soloist at Huge Garden

New York City.—Hettie Delman's voice fills a square block every time she sings. Miss Delman is the chief soloist of Madison Square Garden where all important athletic events are held. She has sung in the intermissions of prize fights, hockey matches, rodeos, and political conventions.

"You need something to calm and rest people after they have been under the great emotional tension of a big contest," Miss Delman declares.

"Some kind of jazz is the best sedative under such circumstances. That may sound odd, but it is true. A song such as 'I Tore Up Your Picture When You Said Goodbye,' relaxes the nerves that have been strained to the breaking point, and enables everybody to go on with the next act. It strikes a sentimental chord and completely snaps the tension. Its waltz ballad rhythm is probably the most soothing of all modern tempos."

Trained in Boston
Miss Delman was trained in the Boston Conservatory of Music. She did her first public singing for the soldiers in France and was often very close to the front. She has a theory that singing in the open air helps rather than hurts a voice.

"Most teachers contend that night air injures the vocal chords," she says. "It didn't hurt mine. On the contrary, I am inclined to believe that a great deal of the development of my voice is due to my outdoor work. I doubt if I should ever have been selected to sing in Madison Square Garden if I had not had this training. It takes a good deal of voice to fill a square block, you know, especially to fill it above the insistent efforts at conversation of some 30,000 people."

WOMEN THRILL OVER FEATURES OF NEW BUICK

Buick's thousands of women admirers will find the Silver Anniversary Buick a car over which to exclaim in wonder and delight. Not only in its captivating style, but in its remarkable ease of handling and its generous provision for the comfort of driver and passengers, the new Buick is without a peer anywhere, says C. C. Kratz, local dealer.

The numerous refinements that have been made in the driving compartment of the 1928 Buick are now supplemented in additional changes, every one of which will appeal to women as well as to men. For example, the car is now fully adaptable to the requirements of any individual. Its adjustable steering column, introduced last year, is retained, and the front seat in every closed model is now adjustable also. It may be shifted 3 1/2 inches, to accommodate a driver of any stature. This adjustment is accomplished with one hand, by means of a small hand knob located just below the front edge of the seat cushion, and can be made without disturbing either driver or passenger.

Another refinement over which owners will be enthusiastic is the electric windshield wiper with tandem blades, standard equipment on all closed models. This type of wiper not only maintains an even speed regardless of the engine speed, but cleans the entire windshield, in front of the passenger as well as the driver. Still another driving compartment improvement is the new Buick instrument panel, with its new grouping of instruments. The panel is provided with two-way illumination, and accommodates the 90-mile speedometer—directly in front of the driver—the oil gauge, water temperature gauge, and new hydrostatic gasoline gauge, the most accurate instrument of its sort obtainable.

The gearshift lever in the new Buick is of graceful design, and curves back toward the driver. As in the 1928 Buick, there is no control for which the driver must reach. Drivers accustomed to spend much time on the road will appreciate the new accelerator pedal and foot rest, which are so designed as to permit movement of the right foot while driving, without affecting the speed of the car. The new front compartment ventilators, small doors in the cowl just forward of the front doors, and on forward level with the feet, also appeal. They are operated easily by a slight pressure of the foot.

Buick is introducing something new in the way of theft-resisting door handles, in the Silver Anniversary line. While a would-be thief may force the handle with a wrench or piece of pipe, it will give without allowing access to the car, and the owner may still unlock the door with his key.

MERGER DEAL OF CHRYSLER DODGE CLOSED

NEW YORK, July 30.—(U.P.)—The Dodge-Chrysler automobile merger, through which the Chrysler corporation acquired the properties of Dodge Brothers, Inc., became a reality today.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of Dodge Brothers in Baltimore, which had been adjourned from Saturday, the plans for the merger were approved by holders of 90 percent or more of the Dodge stock.

By approving the merger plan, the Dodge stockholders in effect sold their property to the Chrysler corporation for about $115,000,000 and in addition Chrysler assumed approximately $50,000,000 in obligations of the Dodge company which still are outstanding.

The merger makes the Chrysler corporation the third largest automobile concern in the world. It is exceeded only by the Ford Motor company and General Motors corporation.

It will have a line of cars ranging from the new Plymouth, only recently announced by Chrysler, and selling as low as $685 up to the Chrysler "80" which sells at $3500, and more for special bodies. In addition to the Chrysler and Plymouth lines, the consolidated company will have the three models of Dodge cars—the standard, Victory and Senior sixes, and this week will bring out another new Chrysler model, the De Soto, to sell at about $850. It will also build Graham trucks, now made by Dodge Brothers.

The company will have permanent assets of $95,000,000; working capital of $80,000,000; and total resources of $175,000,000. Its gross business is expected to be around half a billion dollars annually.

The company will have 16 plants with a total capacity of 700,000 automobiles annually.

Board Probes Train Wreck At Cortena

WOODLAND, July 30.—(U.P.)—Official investigation of the train wreck at Cortena, north of here which endangered lives of some of the nation's leading lawyers, Sunday and injured 46 persons, eight seriously, was underway tonight.

A board of inquiry was prepared to convene at Cortena Tuesday to determine the reason that the Cascade Limited, a Southern Pacific flyer between Portland and San Francisco had crashed into the rear end of the American Bar association special.

There were 156 persons on the special and as eye-witnesses related stories of the collision today it seemed miraculous that none were killed.

The giant locomotive of the Cascade, moving approximately 50 miles and hour swept around a curve north of Cortena and plowed through 12 feet of the observation car of the special which had stopped for repairs to its engine.

Nearly all passengers of the two trains were tossed about in their seats or hurled into isles. Members of the train crew immediately started extracting the injured and were aided by passengers. A porter ran up with towels which he used as tourniquets and possibly saved several lives. The seriously injured were removed to the Woodland hospital and Arbuckle sanitarium.

So many theories as to the cause of the wreck were offered that the findings of the board of inquiry were awaited with interest.

POLICE GUARD NOBILE TRAIN ENROUTE HOME

BERLIN, July 30.—(U.P.)—Weary and travel worn, General Unberlin Nobile and the handful of men representing all that was rescued from the ill-fated dirigible Italia were dashing across Europe tonight on their way home.

A much different feeling greeted the group on their trip through Germany today than the enthusiastic send-off which marked their departure from Copenhagen Sunday night when Nobile, deeply moved, distributed flowers among a cheering throng.

Curious crowds gathered at the various stations along the route, despite efforts of German railway officials to keep details of the trip secret. Some of the stations were heavily policed and bystanders were warned not to approach the platform as the train halted for brief stops. Fear of hostile demonstrations was reported to be the reason for the authorities action.

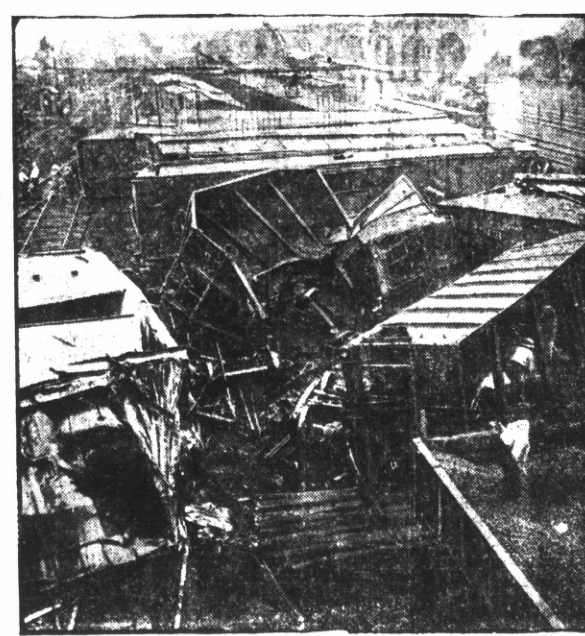

As the train pulled out of Halle for Munich, one onlooker shouted above the noise of the departing train, "What about Malmgren?"

General Nobile stood at the window of his car watching the transfer of the coach to another train. He appeared nervous and exhausted as he leaned on a companion for support. Later he approached the steps, but the guard forbade him to descend.

STEEL COMPANY TO BUILD UNIT AT PITTSBURG

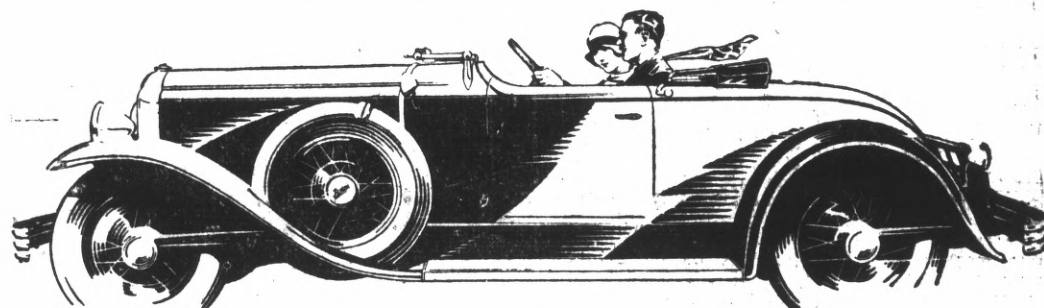

PITTSBURG, July 30.—Columbia Steel company directors have made an appropriation for construction of a tin plate mill at the local plant and construction will be started as soon as plans for building have been completed, Louis Sloss, secretary of the company, announced today.

Sloss declined to state the amount of the company's appropriation but said that it was "a considerable amount" understood locally to be in the neighborhood of $4,300,000.

Building of the tin plate mill will add materially to the size of the steel plant and will result in the employment of 600 additional men. The company intends to have the new mill completed and in operation in February, Sloss announced.

The company is also to make improvements at its Torrance, Calif., and Provo, Utah, plants, according to the announcement, but the greatest expenditure is to be made at the plant here. While the new mill is being built, Sloss announced, construction changes will be made in other departments of the steel mill designed to increase the plant's output.

It is understood that $2,500,000 will be expended on construction of the tin plate plant and that the remainder of the $4,300,000 appropriation for the Pittsburgh plant will be devoted to enlargements and changes. It was indicated that plans will be completed so that construction can be started within ten days. The company, it was said locally, has obtained large orders that will require completion of the new tin plant by February 15.

SANNIES IN DOUBLE WIN OVER OAKLAND

Phil Jones' Richmond Sannies pounced on the Pon Honor club of Oakland Sunday and what they did was nobody's business. Jones' cohorts came back with a vengeance and copped both games of the double bill, pounding out a 14 to 6 victory in the first encounter, which went seven innings and then coming back to complete the debacle by committing assault and battery to the extent of 23 to 6 in the second contest, which went five innings.

The twilight game was abandoned at the request of the Oakland club, which gave up in disgust when the twenty-third Sannie crossed the plate in the fifth frame.

As a result of their twin victory the Sannies now have an outside chance to win the league pennant, as the Tenth Street Market club, defeated last Sunday by Jones' men, administered a beating to San Pablo by a score of 8 to 5.

San Pablo's loss and the Sannies' victory sets the stage for another hot contest between these two natural rivals. The first game will be played next Sunday or in two weeks.

Manager Matthews of the Carmen is making arrangements for a return contest, which will be played on a more suitable field, it being claimed that the bumpy condition of the El Cerrito diamond played a part in the Carmen's defeat.

Trapshooters Win Honors At Alameda Range

Breaking 49 out of a possible 50, Jack Becker of Richmond Sunday took second place in the trapshoot staged by the San Francisco Elks at the Golden Gate Gun club's traps in Alameda, finishing behind Andy Sorenson, who broke 50 in the class A event.

M. G. Moitza, Richmond, tied for fifth place in the class B event and captured the handicap, placing for a special club shoot in the class B event.

Dr. C. F. Farlinger tied for second place in class C and placed in the club handicap.

To one. Then Rene Lacoste defeated Johnny Hennessey, youthful American, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5, 6-3, to make the French victory more impressive and to make the final standings: France 4 matches; America, none.

Tilden's game today was just as brilliant as it was when he startled the tennis world by defeating Lacoste in the opening day's play. But Cochet had picked this match to display the almost super-human stroking and court play that he flashes about twice a year.

El Cerrito Fight Card Is Announced

Eddie Dampier, San Jose, and Mexican Tommy O'Brien of Los Angeles have been signed by Promotor Joe Rosa for an eight round main event at the El Cerrito boxing pavilion Friday night, it was announced yesterday.

The fight promises plenty of action, both fighters being well skilled at the art of defense and assault.

Supporting the main event are preliminaries that might easily pass for main events. Angel De la Cruz and Pedro Torres will battle over the six-round round.

For Anderson and Kid Cal, Santa Rosa will provide them in another six-round bout. Mickey Brown of Richmond and Phil Roberts of San Francisco will battle four rounds. The curtain raiser will find Tim Daley of Berkeley meeting Tony Oliver of Oakland.

BRITAIN IN CLEAN SWEEP AT OLYMPICS

By FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor
AMSTERDAM, July 30.—(U.P.)—Three representatives of the British empire—a dark haired, slender Canadian boy, a broad shouldered, muscular Irishman, and a smiling blond English peer—swept the Olympic field bare of victories today.

Percy Williams, 19 year old Canadian, showed the way to a great field of sprinters to win the 100 metre dash in 10.4 seconds. Dr. Pat O'Callaghan of Ireland won a surprise victory when he tossed the hammer 51.39 metres (168.57 feet). Lord Burghley of England outgamed the finalists in the 100 metre hurdles to win that even, in a final desperate drive at the tape. Lord Burghley's time was 53.25 seconds.

The American athletes, who were counted to win many points in the three events today, were forced to be satisfied with second and third in the 400 metre hurdles; third, fifth and sixth in the hammer throw; and fourth and sixth in the 100 metre dash.

Frank Wykoff, sensational boy sprinter from Glendale, Calif., and Bob McAllister, erstwhile "fly"ing cop, could get no better than fourth and sixth, respectively, in the 100 metre finals. McAllister, who went into the final rated as a "darkhorse," apparently left his best races in the preliminaries and practice as he worked harder than anyone for today's race only to fail and finish last.

Wykoff seemed to be clipping an unusually long stride and never threatened seriously the leaders. The California schoolboy was nervous at the star and jumped the gun once. Legg, of South Africa, also made one false start.

The young Canadian speedster flitted out in front midway of the 100 metre final, and skimming over the soft track at a fast pace and never losing his stride, maintained his lead until he crossed the finish line. The first half of the race was desperately contested and for a time it appeared that Jack London, English negro, would lead the field to the tape. But his legs gave way in the last half of the race and he barely nosed out Lammer of Germany for second place.

The judges disagreed over the placings of the last three men, Wykoff, Legg and McAllister, but finally announced the finish in that order, fourth, fifth and sixth, respectively.

In the first semifinals of the 100 metres, McAllister defeated Williams by six inches when he overtook the Canadian in the last 25

Shows Sister His Specialty

WHEN MRS. MARY MOBERLY of Baltimore visited Yankee Stadium Babe Ruth presented his sister with a wrist watch and a bouquet of flowers. Then continuing to show her a good time, he batted out two homers and knocked in four runs.

Lord Burghley's victory over Frank Cubel, University of Iowa, and Morgan Taylor, Illinois A. C., in the 400 metre hurdles was one of the biggest surprises thus far of the Olympics. Beaten by the Americans in the preliminary heat, Burghley came on to win the final in a driving finish in which his heart played as much as his heels.

Running in the greatest form of his career despite the disadvantage of a lame leg and the outside lane, the English peer passed Cubel in the last 20 metres of the race and won by almost two metres.

Cubel was left flat footed at the start of the race, but he soon overtook the field and hurled his way into the lead until he tripped the last hurdle and lost his stride. The blond Iowa even then might have won but for the Englishman's sensational finish. Taylor never quite got going until the very finish when he nearly tripped Cubel for second place.

Swedish, S. Pettersson (H.Q.) of Sweden, former holder of the world's record for the 400 metre hurdles, was in poor form, but came on fast in the stretch to take fourth place. Livingstone Learmouth of Great Britain was fifth and Facelli of Italy sixth.

Lord Burghley's victory was the most popular individual victory yet achieved at Amsterdam and a throng of about 30,000 cheered as he walked back to the dressing room.

NEW SERVICES PROJECTED IN BAY DISTRICT

How railroad transportation facilities have been developed in Central California by the Western Pacific Railroad Company and its subsidiary and affiliated lines, and how the Western Pacific and its subsidiaries, including the Western Pacific California Railroad Company, propose to extend and improve these facilities, and to acquire or to construct new lines to serve territory not adequately provided with transportation service by rail, is shown by the accompanying sketch map.

The Western Pacific Railroad Company embraces an independent, competing transcontinental railroad system operating a through route from San Francisco and Oakland via Stockton and Sacramento, and thence via Marysville, Oroville and the Feather River Canyon through Nevada to Salt Lake City, Utah, where it connects with the Denver and Rio Grande Western and the Union Pacific for Eastern points, also, with local Utah lines.

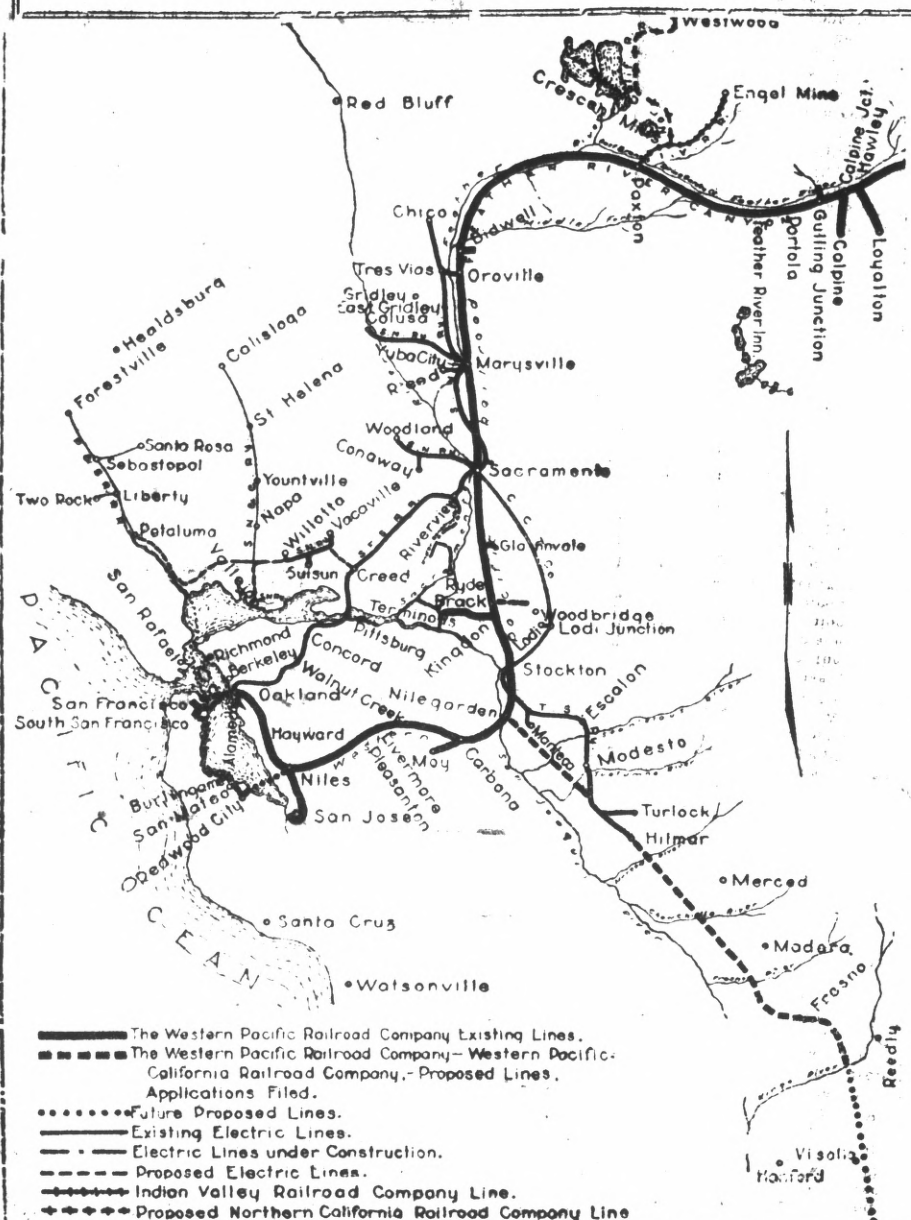

In California the Western Pacific has branches from Hawley to Klamath, Calpine Junction to Calpine, Gulling Junction to Gulling, Bidwell to Bidwell Bar, Oldavale to Bradford, Kintola to Tarnhouse, Carbonsa to Moy, and from Niles to San Jose.

The Western Pacific controls through stock ownership the Sacramento Northern Railway and the Tidewater Southern Railway. The Sacramento Northern operates an electric line between Sacramento and Chico, with branch lines to Woodland, Swanton, Colusa and Oroville, and a detached branch known as the Vaca Valley line, from Vacaville to Suisun and Willotta. The Tidewater Southern operates an electric line from Stockton southward to Manteca, Modesto, Turlock and Hilmar. Interests allied with the Western Pacific control through stock ownership the San Francisco Sacramento Railroad, commonly known as the Sacramento Short Line, which operates an electric line between Oakland and Sacramento, with a branch line to Pittsburg. The Western Pacific also has a one-third interest in the Central California Traction Company which operates an electric line between Sacramento and Stockton.

The Western Pacific California Railroad Company, recently incorporated, which is a subsidiary of the Western Pacific Railroad, proposes to construct a line of railroad from San Francisco to Redwood City, and from Niles to Kings River.

Existing lines and branches of the Western Pacific in California are shown on the map in heavy black lines. The Sacramento Northern, Tidewater Southern and the Sacramento Short Line are indicated by narrow black lines. The Central California Traction railway is shown by an alternately blocked double line. A dash and dot line traces the Holland branch of the Sacramento Northern now under construction. Broken lines indicate lines of railroad to be constructed as follows:

25 miles by the Western Pacific California Railroad Company, from San Francisco to Redwood City.

133 miles by the Western Pacific California Railroad Company, from Niles to Kings River.

1.77 miles of belt line connections by the Western Pacific Railroad Company, in Oakland and Alameda.

3 1-2 miles by the Western Pacific Railroad Company, from Brack easterly.

7 1-2 miles by the Sacramento Northern, from a junction with its Holland Branch to Ryde.

7 1-2 miles by the Sacramento Northern from its Vaca Valley lines, to Creed on the Sacramento Short Line.

36 miles by the Sacramento Northern from a point near Willotta on its Vaca Valley line to Petaluma, this being contingent upon acquisition of the Petaluma and Santa Rosa Railroad by the Western Pacific.

Light lines show the Petaluma and Santa Rosa railroad which also operates a steamer line between San Francisco and Petaluma, and the San Francisco, Napa and Calistoga railway. The cities of Santa Rosa, Forestville, Sebastopol and Petaluma, which are on the Petaluma and Santa Rosa railroad, and the cities of Vallejo, Napa, Yountville, St. Helena and Calistoga, which are on the San Francisco, Napa and Calistoga will gain a new transcontinental all-rail outlet if the route proposed by the Western Pacific across Sonoma, Napa and Solano counties is created. Acquisition of the Petaluma and Santa Rosa railroad by the Western Pacific, construction of the Willotta-Petaluma extension of the Vaca Valley lines of the Sacramento Northern, and construction between the Vaca Valley lines and the Sacramento Short Line will establish the route.

Map limitations do not permit showing in detail development planned in the industrial districts of Oakland and Alameda, where the Western Pacific, already heavily interested, has purchased one-half interest in the Alameda Belt Line and has made a contract to purchase the Union Belt Railway of Oakland. Acquisition of the Union Belt Railway of Oakland and construction of a rail connection by the Western Pacific with both of these belt lines awaits decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission which has heard the application for the necessary certificate of public convenience and necessity.

The map also shows the line which the Northern California railroad company proposes to complete between Westwood and Crescent Mills by the construction of 16 miles of railroad at an approximate cost of $400,000 connecting at Crescent Mills with the Indian Valley railroad (also shown on the map) and thence with the Western Pacific at Paxton, which would provide a new route from Westwood and the timber belt lying north of the Western Pacific to Central California and points south and also to the east.

As the map is confined to Western Pacific lines in California it does not show its lines in Nevada or Utah nor does it show the connection which the Western Pacific is about to construct between its main line and the Oregon Short Line at Wells, Nevada. This connection will afford a new route between points in Central California and points in Idaho and Montana.

Violinist, Polo Player May Vie In Chess Game

MONTEREY, July 30.—Will Tevis, who is scheduled to do the treading act at the Sierra Pilgrimage, August 23-24, doesn't find time hanging heavily on his hands.

Tevis plays polo—he is one of the best in California—and in addition is the champion chess exponent of his home town of Burlingame. The Monterey authorities want to feature him in the big fiesta bull-fight to be a feature of this year's Sierra Pilgrimage.

Mischa Elman, the violinist, enters the picture with a challenge to Will to meet him in a chess match to be played entirely from memory, both players blind-folded.

After that Tommy Hitchcock, captain of the United States four in the Argentine-American international polo matches in New York, sent Tevis an urgent call to play for the United States in the series. At any rate, Will will not have to be looking for things to do.
